

FARMER VICTIM OF BAD ASSAULT

Unknown Assailant Seriously
Hurts Wm. O'Polka Saturday Night

William O'Polka, a well known Woodboro farmer, lies in a critical condition suffering from injuries received by an unknown assailant who attacked him while he was driving to his farm from this city late Saturday night. O'Polka's jaw was broken and he sustained other bad hurts about the head. The weapon used was probably a stake or an iron rod. O'Polka was knocked unconscious by the blows.

Whoever attacked O'Polka evidently meant to kill him and after committing the deed probably left him for dead. Rendered senseless O'Polka fell into the box of his sleigh and his team continued the trip to the farm. The man was found by his wife who secured a physician as soon as possible. It was not until late Monday that O'Polka regained consciousness.

At his home where he is confined he is reported to be recovering. He can tell nothing of the attack upon him and has no idea as to who is responsible for the crime.

Sheriff Asmundsen is at work on the case and some startling developments are not unexpected.

DRY GOODS STORES CLOSING EARLY

Clerks Cease Work At Six O'Clock P. M. With Exception Of Saturday

Rhineland dry goods stores have adopted the early closing plan which has for years been in force in other up-to-date cities throughout the country. These stores now close at six o'clock each evening with the exception of Saturday evenings when the closing hour is about half past nine o'clock. The movement here was started by the Jacobson Dry Goods company and the other dry goods firms readily agreed to the plan. It is reported that the clothing stores are considering the proposition of early closing and that the grocery men may also fall in line.

In closing their stores at six o'clock the dry goods dealers ask the cooperation of the public that the system may prove successful. Shoppers are requested to do their trading before six o'clock which would be as easy for them as after that hour. They should feel that the clerks, the majority of whom are young ladies, demand consideration and after a hard day's work in the stores need rest and recreation. Mothers should think how they would like to have their own daughters toiling evenings long after other workers have completed their day's labor. By viewing the matter in a reasonable light it is certain that patrons will unite with the merchants in making early closing general throughout the city.

THREE BASKET BALL GAMES HERE.

Antigo Defeats Local Highs and Company L Wins
From Phillips

In a classy game of basket ball at the Armory Friday night the Rhineland High School quintette lost to the Antigo Highs by a score of 38 to 22. Antigo's center, Dewey, proved himself to be the star man on the team and if it had not been for his effective work in shooting baskets the score would have been different.

All the local boys played an exceptionally strong game and their team work was very creditable. Edmund Yahr of Antigo refereed and Mr. Frogner was the umpire.

The game between the girls High school teams, Rhineland and Antigo resulted in a victory for Rhineland by the score of 20 to 2.

The attendance was unusually large, the receipts amounting to over $50.

Company L Defeats Phillips

At the Armory Sunday afternoon Company L team won from the Phillips basket shooters 36 to 17 was the score. The game was rather on the rough order and little team work was displayed. Phillips had a much lighter team than the militia boys.

Himes, forward on the company team, made the most baskets and played a splendid game.

Throughout the entire contest shooting was made from all parts of the floor and very few seemed to hit the circle, especially was this true of the visitors.

Company L has a fast team and looks forward to a season of many victories.

JUDGE REID MAKES STRONG ADDRESS

Audience Fills Congregational Auditorium And Lecture Room

The address of Judge A. H. Reid at the Congregational church last Sunday afternoon, on "The Ounce of Prevention," was fully up to high expectations. It was characterized by breadth of thought, simplicity of style, combined with a quiet, forceful presentation. The familiar saying that "An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure" is generally accepted at its face value. But Judge Reid showed very strikingly that an "ounce of prevention" applied at the right time will successfully accomplish what the so-called pound of cure (ordinarily) utterly fails to accomplish. In short, that the "pound of cure" is usually unavailing, and therefore unsatisfactory.

Mr. Reid dwelt on the supreme importance of the first few years of the life of the child, showing that the ounce of prevention is effectively applied, only, at this period of the life of the individual.

It is really the great principle of conservation that Judge Reid would apply to human life and character.

The ounce of prevention conserves the latest resources of the individual, gives them opportunity to expend and develop in a natural, normal manner; gives them opportunity to take full possession of the life of the growing youth. For, with all the moral and spiritual resources of the child and youth conserved the development of religion follows as truly and naturally as harvest follows seed time.

Judge Reid showed the weakness of the negative method of training the child. The prohibition, "Thou shalt not," should be used by the parent sparingly; the boy should be given something good to do. He is active by nature and no system of "repression" can possibly make him good. "Why does a boy do wrong? Simply because he has nothing else to do," said the Judge.

Those who heard Judge Reid's address were impressed with the idea that the municipality should take hold of the matter of furnishing amusements and recreations for young people with all the thoroughness and system with which it now provides schools-recreations suitable for boy life and girl life-recreations entirely free from an unwholesome and abnormal atmosphere.

Furthermore, the speaker wisely emphasized the "saving" of some useful task for the growing boy: for instance, the cultivation of a small plot of ground in the summer time. This should deeply interest the "boy nature" and serve as the ounce of prevention in his career.

MANY PEOPLE HEAR DR. WILEY SPEAK

The Champion Of Pure Food Is Also Apostle Of The "Simple Life"

The third number of the Entertainment Course, consisting of a lecture by Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, was given last Thursday evening before an unusually large audience. On account of the wide reputation of the lecturer the audience was eager to see and hear the man who has made an enviable reputation in fighting the battles of the people.

Dr. Wiley is a big man, both in physical stature and in his intellectual and moral grasp of fundamental problems of the American people. We have thought of him as merely a pure food expert, as a chemist of marked repute; but he is much more. He is a fighter for the welfare of the consumer as against the avarice of certain producers who seek to cheat the consumer by placing inferior and adulterated commodities on the market. He is also an apostle of the "simple life." Not the least interesting and suggestive part of his lecture was his plea for simplicity and simplicity in the manner of living.

But Dr. Wiley looms largest as a conservationist. In fact his viewpoint on all subjects is that of the conservationist. He holds that the most important thing for the American people to conserve is the health of individuals and the public in general, and indirectly the health of posterity. But people can't be healthy without pure food, and in sufficient amount; without adequate clothing, and comfortable places in which to live. This led to a discussion of the subject of "bringing government back to the people." And a more just distribution of profits.

His ideas on the conservation of our natural resources met with the general approval of the audience. "My idea of conservation of our natural resources is not to hoard them, but to use them—not for the enrichment of the few, but for the welfare of the many," said Dr. Wiley. "I do not believe in sitting around freezing my feet in order that posterity may have coal to burn," declared the speaker, "but the coal should be mined by the people of the United States for their own use and not to swell the colossal fortunes of so-called mine-owners. There was much "spice" in the lecture, for Dr. Wiley has a well developed sense of humor, which he displayed in frequent witty remarks.

Many thoughtful people regard the lecture as one of the strongest numbers given in Rhineland in any recent lecture course.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Keeler of Enterprise were in the city Tuesday.

MR. GRIFFITH ON REFORESTRATION

State Forester Tells His Side
Of Story To Rhineland
People

E. M. Griffith, head of the state forestry department, made an address on his side of the present state reforestation system before a large audience at the city hall Tuesday evening. Mr. Griffith presented his argument in favor of reforestation in an able manner and to people who are not acquainted with the situation it no doubt impressed them favorably. A great many statements which he made were misleading to those who have not given reforestation much consideration.

In the course of his address Mr. Griffith stated that it was the purpose of the department to acquire only such lands for reforestation that are unfit for agriculture and to impress upon the minds of his hearers that the larger portion of the lands now owned by the state are not suitable for farming. The fact of the matter is that at least 50 per cent of these lands are adapted for agriculture. He also declared that he is endeavoring to get the state, through the legislature, to pay a portion of the school tax of the last September.

Nothing has as yet been accomplished along this line. He pictured to the people in a highly colored way what a fine thing it would be to lease lands to tourists from all over the country at from $10 to $50 per lot per year for summer resort purposes. From the general fact of the tone of the speaker's address it would be inferred that he would like to see all this part of Wisconsin one big summer resort for the idle rich irrespective of the citizens and the home builders. It is well known that the majority of lands bordering on lakes and streams are the best for agriculture. It is also a fact that people who come to this country seeking to build summer homes want a piece of land which they can own and not lease.

Mr. Griffith said it was his plan to enclose from eight to ten thousand acres of lands in Vilas county for a game preserve which he intended to stock with elk from Yellowstone Park, moose from northern Minnesota, also fur bearing animals of all kinds and game birds. He neglected to say, however, that it would require an army of men to maintain and guard the preserve. This would cost the state thousands of dollars annually with no income, only to give the wealthy class a chance to get some big game shoot at the expense of the state.

He said that a bill is now before the legislature to tax all automobiles a license fee of fifty cents per horse power, that a part of the money so derived would be expended for roads in the forest reserve. This statement seems amusing as it is true that Milwaukee county pays the highest percentage of the auto licenses in Wisconsin and have roads of its own to build. It would not seem reasonable that Milwaukee would sit quietly by and allow all this money to be spent for roads in the forest reserve in northern Wisconsin.

Mr. Griffith also brought out other smooth statements in favor of reforestation which sounded good but if carried out would be very expensive to the tax payers.

MRS. CATHERINE COFFEY

End Comes Last Friday Evening at Marinette

Death came to Mrs. Catherine Coffey at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Herbert Despus, in Marinette, Friday evening. For three months Mrs. Coffey had been seriously ill and the end was not unexpected. Erysipelas combined with the infirmities of advanced age was the cause of her death.

The remains were brought to this city Monday and taken to the residence of her son, James Coffey, 627 Keenan street. At 9:30 o'clock Tuesday morning the funeral was conducted from St. Mary's church. Requiem high mass was said; Rev. Father Owens of Minocqua conducted the services and Rev. Dr. Lienfelder, pastor of St. Mary's, delivered a very touching sermon on the beautiful life and christian character of the deceased.

Interment was made in the family lot in St. Mary's cemetery beside the resting places of her husband, and her son, the late Thomas Coffey.

Deceased was a native of County Kerry, Ireland, born May 13, 1833. She came to America at the age of 12 years and for a number of years resided in Canada. On November 24, 1861 she became the wife of Thomas Coffey at Detroit, Mich., and later moved to Marinette which city she lived with her son, James, through the legislature, to pay in this city, returning to Marinette a portion of the school tax of the last September.

Five children survive her namely: Timothy, of Marinette; Richard E. of Chassard; Patrick W., of Chassard; Mrs. John Miller, Armstrong; and Herbert Despus of Marinette. At the funeral other relatives here were Mr. and Mrs. E. Murphy, Arthur and Fred Coffey, Mrs. A. Luschow, Thomas Miller, and Mrs. John Miller, Armstrong.

Mrs. Coffey was a woman whose death has filled with sadness the hearts of many friends in this city and Marinette. She was a devout member of the church, held as sacred her family and home, and was always a true friend in the hour of need. To those who are left to mourn sympathy is extended.

COUNTY BOARD ACCEPTS BONDS

All County Officers Are Now
Qualified To Fill Their Places

The bonds of all the officers of Oneida county have now been accepted, such acceptance having been made at the special meeting of the county board called this week for that purpose.

When the board convened at the regular meeting in January, to approve of the officers' bonds only two were in regular form from a technical standpoint and only these two could be accepted. Since then the bonds of the other officials were properly formed and upon their approval by the state insurance department at Madison were looked upon favorably by the county board.

At this meeting of the board an ordinance was passed taking three more sections from the towns of Enterprise and attaching them to Schoep. They are sections 4, 9 and 16.

The regular batch of bills were also allowed.

You may imagine that lumber is all the same, but you were never more mistaken in your life, if you imagine that. We invite a critical examination of our stock, simply because we know it to be much better than the average. QUALITY: That's our hobby. When we sell you a bill of lumber we want to know positively that you will be satisfied that you've got the best your money will buy, and will come to us when you want something else in building material.

TALKS TO ANTIGO COMMERCIAL CLUB

County Representative Luther One Of The Speakers At Banquet

At a banquet of the Antigo Commercial Club at the Hotel Butterfield, Antigo, a few evenings ago, E. L. Luther, agricultural representative of Oneida county, was one of the chief speakers. Pertaining to Mr. Luther's address the Antigo Journal contains the following:
The value of the proper selection of seed was brought out by Mr. Luther who stated that the expense of an agriculture representative in Oneida county was saved many times over by his work in getting good seed for the farmer.

The idea of the county representative as narrated by Mr. Luther is to bring the school right to the door of the farmer. As county representative it is his duty to go about the county investigating the problems that confront the farmer. Mr. Luther has been of immense value to the farmers in telling them what their soil lacked and how to overcome this lack of fertility. He has been instrumental in organizing Guernsey breeding associations and hoped that this alone would some day make Oneida county one of the richest counties in the world.

Sometimes during the winter Mr. Luther conducts a seven and eight weeks short agriculture course for boys and for twenty weeks during the year gives one period a day in agriculture instruction in the Training School.

The young lad that goes to teach in the country school should know something about farming and be able to teach in a small way methods of overcoming a large number of the general problems that confront the farmer. It was the statement of the speaker. "If our district schools would teach agriculture thoroughly it would become a great service not only to the pupils but to the adult people of a community."

In his talk Mr. Luther touched up on the importance of getting the right kinds of birds to dwell on the farm. He held that the desirable species of birds would do much to relieve the farmer of some of the problems of bugs.

Farm accounting is something Mr. Luther is endeavoring to introduce among the farmers of Oneida county. The milk sheet, the milk scales and a feed account are some of the things the importance of which he is trying to impress upon the farmers of that community.

Mr. Luther spoke briefly of his demonstration work on the Oneida county fair grounds and of the importance of showing the farmer the advantage of the proper cultivation of the soil.

During the eleven months that Mr. Luther has been at Rhinelander he has had twenty-five meetings in the county and talked to twelve hundred people. However Mr. Luther holds that the greatest service is where he can talk informally to two or three farmers and discuss the problems that confront them.

If you wish to know what the officials of the city of Rhinelander are doing, you must take the New North. It is the official city paper. It is also the only official county paper for Oneida county. Know what is going on in your city and county.

The state senate has again put off the evil day. They have now postponed their action on the McGovern-Eckert feud until February. They are not looking for trouble.

We learn that George W. Weldon is to be a candidate for county superintendent of Forest county. We knew Mr. Weldon when he acted in this capacity in Pierce county and consider him one of the strong school men of the state.

Through an error in printing in the county board proceedings the Crescent percent should read 3 whereas it did read 4. To leave this in this way would be a great injustice to Mr. Lubold who is an excellent servant to his town and is still always working for the best interests of the people.

SQUARE WITH MASSES

The little one over the way is mistaken in the ideas of the New North. It is not our whole aim to be on the "band wagon." We wish to be square with the common people and faithful to their interests. It has not been our misfortune to work for the big fellows to that extent that we believe to further their interests is right. We stand more firmly than ever before for the principle that the natural resources belong to the masses instead of the few and that the undue profits from these resources should go to the people. The little news editor need have no fear of our desire to get on the band wagon of his masters.

REALLY AMUSING

It was not our intention to make comment on the showing of the Rhinelander News for 1912 but their deception as to fact in the article of last week is so ludicrous that we can not resist. Perhaps from the standpoint of the bunch that started the paper to advance their own personal interests things look good, but we would not consider a business a financial success that pays no dividends, that buys little or no new machinery and still owes more money at the end of the year than it did the year before. Nor, would we consider a paper the popular organ of Rhinelander that averaged one and one tenth paid subscriptions daily. Of course, it all depends on your view point.

HITS THE "BIG FELLOWS"

In his address in this city Thursday night Dr. Harvey W. Wiley showed up the avaricious methods of the special interests in a manner that was good to hear. He spoke without fear or favor and went after the very conditions which the common people are struggling to obtain. He hit the big money kings time and again and advocated ownership by the people of the natural utilities. He forecasted a revolution in this country more bloody than that of France if the present conditions termed by big business as "prosperity" continue. Some who heard Dr. Wiley may not have relished his arraignment of the "big fellows" but then—there is a reason.

CARY'S POOR RECORD

LaFollette's Weekly is giving a series of powerful articles to show the people of this state why C. P. Cary is a candidate for re-election as State Superintendent, has not made good in his office and is not entitled to re-election. We print part of article III from the January 25th number as follows:

Superintendent Cary has been a agent of the University ex-officio from January 1, 1909, to January 1, 1912. What has he done on the Board of Regents during all of these ten years to remedy conditions which he has so openly criticized in the newspapers? What has he done as a agent by his votes and by resolutions? How constructive and effective has he been in the actual administration of the university? Do the proceedings of the board show that he urged by his votes and resolutions any important improvement?

His record as a University regent for ten years is almost a blank. With one or two exceptions, he did nothing and opposed nothing. He generally voted with the majority. Every important step to serve the interests of the people was taken outside the initiative of the State Superintendent and taken in almost every case without help or hindrance by him. He simply looked on.

And yet in a series of letters given to the news papers, for nearly three years he has aimed destructive criticism at the University. Doing almost nothing on the board where he might have done something, he has tried to arouse popular prejudice against the State University.

His criticisms have not in the main been aimed at the cost of the University to the state. His chief concern is the question of the University inspection of high schools and the addition of another high school in the state. He has aimed his criticism at the high schools by the State Superintendent, as well as the control of the admission of students to the University. The state superintendent has not shown so much interest in economy as in the extension of his own power.

During the last ten years the University has made direct advances in practical service to the people. It has become more and more "The Instrument of the State" for all kinds of public service. For this constructive work, what has the State Superintendent done as a regent on the managing board?

1. He has given no effective support to the University Extension Department which now enrolls about 5,000 student workers in all parts of the state. He has apparently not caught the spirit of this new department which aims to carry out to the people in shops and factories that kind of knowledge which they can use. He apparently does not appreciate the movement to discover and develop ability and skill among all classes and to awaken new hopes in every bright boy and girl and workman in Wisconsin. Who has ever heard from the State Superintendent any strong commendation of this work which has received the approval of thousands of workers in the state, as well as the admiration of the foremost public men of the nation?

Everybody knows about the State Superintendent's attack on the University. Who ever heard anything of his approval of the service of even a single department?

2. The service by the agricultural college at the University has been rendered with little or no help from the State Superintendent. As a regent, Superintendent Cary has not been identified with any movement of direct benefit to the farmers. He has apparently heard little or nothing of the experiments, plans and associations to increase the production of wealth upon the farms of Wisconsin. He has never shown full appreciation of the importance of the thousands of rural schools as a system to serve the economic interests of the farmers. Both as a University regent and as State Superintendent, he has not measured up to the powers and possibilities of his office. His main effort to please the farmers has been to attack the state University. Most taxpayers want economy in public service, but they will not be deceived by carping criticism.

Is the State Superintendent playing politics and trying to drag the University into politics? Had Oneida county listened to Mr. Cary, today, we would be without the great assistance and encouragement of Agricultural Representative LaFollette. When the secretary of the county training school went to Superintendent Cary as to the advisability of securing an agricultural representative, this same jealousy of the State University was brought up. He thought the university wished to get men in the different counties to build up its machine and even after our representative was sent here Mr. Cary tried to scare us but Oneida county people are not easily scared so Mr. LaFollette is doing work here against Cary's efforts to obstruct the cause. We think it fully time to get a man at the head of the great state school system who is willing to aid in construction instead of using his every effort to obstruct and destroy, consequently, we believe Cary should be defeated April 6th.

Mrs. Arthur Taylor left for Kansas Tuesday night, where she will make a long visit with her sister, Mrs. Brooks. Before returning home she will go to Florida to visit her son and nephew who are employed there this winter.

WOULD ABOLISH COLLEGE "FRATS"

Assemblyman Anderson Introduces Such A Bill In Legislature

If a bill introduced in the legislature by Assemblyman Douglas Anderson of this district becomes a law secret societies and fraternities at Wisconsin University will be totally abolished by statute. Although leveled directly at the University, the bill would exclude also social organizations in all high schools, normal schools and colleges depending upon the bounty of the state.

The proposed legislation is sweeping in effect. In the University alone there are almost 500 members of fraternities.

The Wisconsin Daily News, the University paper, has the following to say of Assemblyman Anderson who introduced the bill:

In 1908 "Dug" Anderson was with Witte and Hart, the representatives of Athens in the joint debate of that year. At that time he was considered the aptest impromptu talker that the joint debate had ever produced. He is a graduate of Rhinelander High school and spent three years in the College of Letters and Science and one year in the law school.

Although serving his first term in the assembly, Anderson is already recognized as a man of great promise in the ranks of the younger progressive republicans.

Anti Frat Movement

The anti fraternity movement of Wisconsin is recognized as only one phase of the big "democratic" movement that is sweeping the universities of the country.

The movement against the "frats" at Princeton culminated and centered about Woodrow Wilson. It was he who, against the will of the regents fought them, declaring that "they were against all ideas of American democracy."

NO MASTERS TO SERVE

This paper was in favor of reforestation of the worthless lands and we believed that to be the policy of the State Forestry Department until the fall of 1911 when after several interviews with George Dawes of Tomahawk Lake and an investigation of actual conditions, we became skeptical and persuaded Mr. Dawes to write articles in the New North to show true conditions which he did. We then asked the head of the forestry department to answer Mr. Dawes which he did but not at all to our satisfaction. As a result of these articles and other means of investigation, we became wholly dissatisfied with the apparent insincerity of the department with us and further investigations have not given more confidence in the department but less. In no sense was this political with us. It was not something to boost the state administration as a whole nor knock it. It was not a means of playing politics as it seemed to be with the News. We know too well that Germany is receiving great benefits from reforestation but we do not care to starve the present generation on the basis that reforestation is absolutely essential to future generations. Our present chief forester has freely admitted many injustices of his present reforestation policy and still he has never lifted his hand to right our wrongs or alleviate our suffering. So far as the New North is concerned, we stand exactly where we did as to principle but oppose the whole Griffith scheme of reforestation and think it should be checked and the good agricultural lands returned to the people for farming purposes. The records show that the New North was the first paper of this community to get the facts clearly before the people and when we saw these facts we boldly denounced the Griffith policy as unfair and unjust to this community where as the News condemned reforestation as it seemed simply to play politics although its President sold the first large tract to the state for this very purpose. It is even stated that he would have sold more had the prices been satisfactory. However, we shall be honest with our readers and advocate what we honestly believe for their best good. We have no other masters to serve.

Mrs. T. B. McIndoe entertained at Bridge last Thursday.

Mrs. F. A. Lowell entertained at Royal Auction Bridge Tuesday afternoon. She gives a five o'clock tea followed by Bridge Monday next.

JOURNAL SEES INJUSTICE Even the Milwaukee Journal, a strong supporter of the forestry move sees an injustice in our treatment as shown by the editorial of Saturday, given below:

In a communication which the board of supervisors of Oneida county has addressed to the state legislature, increased taxes upon private lands and the removal from the market of lands suitable for dairying and other agricultural purposes are emphasized as reasons for opposing the forestry policy of the state. The statement is not intemperate in language nor unreasonable in spirit, if one accepts the premises laid down and thus it is in sharp contrast with the fierce denunciations of the state forest project to which we have become accustomed.

The county board states an obvious fact when it says that if there are in a town 20,000 acres of taxable land; paying taxes of 10 cents an acre in order to make up a needed fund of $2000, and the state should acquire 10,000 acres of these lands, the lands remaining under private ownership would have to be taxed at 20 cents an acre. In Oneida county it is pointed out, there are altogether 760,450 acres of land, of which the state owns 63,620 acres, or a little over 9 per cent, but in some towns it owns more than 50 per cent and in these cases the taxes on private land are almost doubled.

It is the opinion of The Journal repeatedly expressed, that under such conditions the state should grant adequate relief by appropriating funds to help maintain public schools and build new roads—the chief purposes of local taxation in that region. The forestry board is building many miles of new road in the state forest area and to this extent is aiding the residents and taxpayers. Likewise, we understand it realizes the justice of giving state aid in cases like those cited. People living near the state lands are well within their rights when they seek this kind of relief, which should be granted to them. Nothing except harm to their cause, however, can result if in their anger and dissatisfaction they wage war upon the policy of plan of state reforestation. The forestry policy is sound. Opposition to it is foolish and short-sighted.

The Oneida county supervisors as set forth that the state's holdings consist of "most excellent agricultural lands." Most of these tracts are "cut-over" pine lands and soil upon which pine grows is generally so light and sandy that crops cannot be raised upon it to advantage, but the county board cites the agricultural college at Madison in support of its statement. The policy of the forestry board, as we understand it is to abide by the decision of the agricultural college, based upon chemical analysis of the soil, and if the land is agricultural, to sell it to settlers. With both parties willing to abide by the judgment of a capable and disinterested referee, whose services are always available, there is no reason for trouble or disagreement on this point.

MEETING OF PARENTS

Interest Shown in Gathering at First Ward School

Last Friday afternoon there was held in the first ward school a very successful parents' meeting, which included the mothers of all the grade children on the north side, as well as the eighth grade in the high school. Between seventy and eighty mothers responded to the invitation and arrived early to visit the regular classroom work before the formal meeting began. The teachers had cleverly placarded the building with signs of welcome and cordiality, and there was a marked lack of restraint. At three o'clock a program of songs and recitations by the pupils was given, followed by short addresses from several teachers. Supt. Colburn spoke to the mothers, also giving special attention to four points of great importance in school life: cooperation, regularity, punctuality, and medical inspection. In regard to the necessity for regularity he made use of a striking and practical illustration. He said that if one went to a grocer's and bought a dollar's worth of sugar, one would not be satisfied if the grocer, after weighing it out, took out two or three pounds. From the teacher's point of view, it seems that given five days each week to instruct, it is scarcely fair that one day or more should be taken from each week unnecessarily, and the pupil detained at home on some trifling excuse.

Refreshments were provided and served by the teachers, and an informal discussion followed, in which many of the parents took part very freely. They evinced great interest in school matters, and expressed their intentions of working for hearty cooperation along all educational lines.

A similar meeting will be held in the Curran school on Friday of this week, and a similar success is expected. Let every parent turn out at the meeting to which he is invited and a greater enthusiasm will manifest itself in everyone concerned—parents, pupils, and teachers.

VISITS FARMERS NEAR WOODRUFF

Representative Luther Finds Them A Very Prosperous People

On Saturday Agricultural Representative Luther spent a part of the day in the town of Woodruff. A ride was enjoyed behind the fine driver of Head Ranger Weaver. The route lay west to the farm of the Head Ranger and north to the farm of Philip Foelkner. This is some fine country. The farms are well cleared and look prosperous. It seems paradoxical that the Head Ranger should own a farm up next the reserve. But it is true and he has an alfalfa plat too. The Head Ranger is demonstrating that the vicinity of Woodruff is agricultural land. Philip Foelkner has built a fine new house to replace the one recently destroyed by fire. He has a good, well painted barn. Henry Blumenstein has a good outfit too. He has a basement full of cattle and horses and enjoys the use of a splendid silo. His silage smelled and looked excellent. The cattle enjoy the silage too. Mr. Blumenstein will cooperate with the Agricultural Representative in running a potato fertilizing plat on his farm next summer. The farms of Mr. Blumenstein and of the Head Ranger are located on one of the little lakes of that region, thanks to their getting into that country ahead of the Forestry Service which reserves all lake frontage within the confines of the Reserve. A farm with a lake front is a real pleasure. S. Magnusen has a small farm on which is located one of our thirty-five or forty alfalfa plats. This alfalfa went in to winter quarters with growth enough so that the tops of the alfalfa now sticks above the snow. Good level land like that about Woodruff ought to be left for farms, lakes and all. Just as soon as the lumbering is done things agricultural will be doing about Woodruff.

Eight boys now take work in the Short Course. Several more boys will join the course soon. The boys are now judging horses. The work with stock is proving very interesting. The gas engine has been made to run. The boys are becoming very reliable in doing the Babcock test with milk, cream and skir milk. One of the boys is now figuring out how the cows at home are doing by weighing and testing the milk. The farm work now assumes a new interest to him. He says that he is going to use the Babcock test and the milk scales and the milk sheet when he gets back home again. A good paying herd will soon be found upon that farm. The boys have made nail boxes, bird houses, bulletin cases and milk stools for themselves. Work in bookkeeping is taken up in a simple way so that they can keep track of farm accounts. Grass seeds are being tested out. Charles Sanders of Tomahawk Lake has sent in a nice lot of Wisconsin No. 8 seed corn which will be tested out and offered for sale. This corn that will grow will be good corn and not poor stuff and people applying for it first will be given first chance at it for seed. The boys are bringing in various soils which will be tried with various fertilizers and tests. Pretty soon they will make rope halters and commence work upon diseases of potatoes and various plant pests. Don't you think that boys ought to join this course?

Mr. C. Danks of Chicago arrived on Saturday with sixteen horses and on Sunday took them out to Roosevelt near to the big tract which Mr. Danks and others have purchased. In the spring things will be doing out on his tract. They hope to get a big clearing and breaking into potatoes this coming spring. And it looks like business with them.

On several jaunts out into the country lately the Agricultural Representative has observed cattle out picking around on very cold days. In the case of milk cows this is poor business. Cows can not pick any thing now that will make up for what they lose by being out in the cold. Young cattle also lose more by being out in such weather than they gain by what little they pick. Subjecting cattle to cold, bleak yards and fields is only causing loss to the farmer who practices it. Again on one or two occasions cattle have been found in barns without sufficient nourishment. Remember that the cow is a machine and to pay one for his time needs to be fed good feed and plenty of it. It does not pay to keep cattle in a half starved condition. And it is not humane either. Keep the cattle well and they will make some sort of return.

BISHOP SCHINNER RESIGNS

Head Of Superior Diocese May Return
To Milwaukee

Rt. Rev. Augustine Schinner, Bishop of the diocese of Superior, of which this city is a part, has resigned. His resignation is in the hands of the Holy See, awaiting formal action by the papal authorities. Bishop Schinner was in Milwaukee when the announcement was made, and the reason for it is that he can labor to better advantage in other fields. It is intimated that he will return to Milwaukee.

Bishop Schinner was the first bishop of this diocese, being consecrated July 25, 1905, by Mon. Falconi, when the new diocese was created. Prior to his elevation he was Vicar-general of the Milwaukee diocese under Archbishop Katzer, and later under Archbishop Messmer and served for some years as secretary to Archbishop Katzer.

BRONCHITIS SUFFERER

Takes Druggist's Advice With Splendid Result.

If anyone should know the worth of a medicine, it is the retail druggist who sells it over his counter every day in the week, and is in a position to know what remedy gives the best satisfaction.

Mrs. Frank H. Uline, of West Sand Lake, N. Y., says: "For a number of years I was a great sufferer from bronchitis. Last July I had an attack which was more severe than any, and my friends thought I could not recover from it. Then I was advised by my druggist to try Vinol, which I did, with wonderful results. My cough has left me; I have gained in weight and appetite, and I am as strong as ever I was. I advise all who have bronchitis, chronic coughs, or who are run down to try Vinol."

It is the combined action of the medicinal curative elements of the cod's liver, without the greasy oil, aided by the blood-making and strength-creating properties of tonic iron that makes Vinol so efficient.

Remember, we guarantee Vinol to do just what we say—we pay back your money if it does not. P. E. Stop scratching, our Sarsal Salve stops itching. We guarantee it. John J. Reardon Druggist, Rhinelander, Wis.

YOU HAD BETTER BURN YOUR MONEY

The Homesteader's Gamble is another big feature of this week's issue. It is by W. J. Harsha, a Colorado homesteader, and it tells the whole homesteading proposition from A to Z. Mr. Harsha has been through the mill and he says that a man who stakes a homestead and hasn't the two G's—gumption and grit—had better quit. He says further that a homesteader will stand a better chance of succeeding if he has $1000 in cash.

And, Besides All These Features, The Western Farmer and His Help, a solution of the farm labor problem, by Walter V. Woehlke; Spring Plants in the Greenhouse, the keynote of success in growing and selling them, by F. F. Rockwell; Duck Culture, by Ted Edwards; A Land of Berry Farms, by J. Russell Smith; Gas Engine Troubles, valuable information about ignition and carburetion, by F. Webster Brady; Four Sons Who Stayed On the Farm, by D. H. Doane; A Dairy Sextet of the Middle West, by George H. Dacy, and the regular departments dealing with farm legislation, poultry, crops and the market, and a page of pertinent editorial comment.

AND SAVE YOUR ENERGY,
says DR. CYRIL G. HOPKINS, soil expert at the Illinois Experiment Station, than continue farming on the plan of taking from and not putting back into the soil those things which are absolutely essential to permanent, successful agriculture.

And he proves this statement. But he does more. After showing with irrefutable facts just why the prevailing American method of farming is ruinous, he demonstrates how you can make your farm yield from 30 to 40 more bushels per acre.

It's all in a series of articles entitled

The Farm That Won't Wear Out

Now appearing in THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN.

This Week's Issue On Sale Today

A Word With the Women. Every week the "Country Gentlewoman"—a farmer's wife, a mother, a good housekeeper and an intelligent woman all rolled into one—writes an article that is full of helpful ideas and sensible advice. This week her subject is Farm Children's Clothing. This issue also contains: Using The Kitchen's Left-Overs (a substantial way of reducing the cost of living); New Simple Furniture (showing that economy, beauty and utility may be combined); From Tough to Tender (meaty suggestions in the full sense of the word).

HIGH SCHOOL HAPPENINGS

Important Doings Of The Week Among
The Students

On Friday, last week, we were entertained for a few minutes by Dr. Harvey D. Wiley who spoke on the question of poor foods and pure foods. He spoke very clearly and pointedly on the question of physical development for the school pupil. He strongly advocated a thorough medical inspection of all school children and urged the necessity of keeping the physical condition up to standard if the pupil is to be doing first-class work and to hold the right attitude toward school problems. His whole talk was very instructive and interesting, more so because Dr. Wiley is somewhat of a humorist too.

Another game of basket ball is scheduled for next Friday at the Armory with Wausau. Even though our boys got the worst of it in last Friday's game, the playing was so good and the team showed such improvement that we have every reason to look forward to another exciting contest. Everybody thoroughly enjoyed the last games with Antigo, both the girls' and the boys' games, and everybody will just as thoroughly enjoy this next game. Come and support the team by your presence, rooting, and cheering.

Among the new classes for the new semester are a class in physiology and a class in higher algebra. The course in physiology is required as a university credit, but the higher algebra is taken only by those who need another credit to graduate, and by those who think that they need the practice in higher mathematics. The physiology class is taught by Mr. Colburn and the algebra class by Miss Slater.

As a penalty for tardiness different seniors have been given a sojourn in the main room until Miss Oakley decides that they have learned the lesson so well that they will run faster next time if they don't start early enough. The punishment is pretty strong for a senior to be classed with the freshmen, and the harm done to the unfortunate seniors, who are not to blame if the clock is slow is mostly to their dignity. It works a cure though.
